

Schools & Military

■ Life Scout Peter Kalis, a senior at Langley High School, organized more than 30 volunteers who on Oct. 27 worked on a meadow reclamation project at Riverbend Park.

Volunteers, including those from Langley and McLean high schools, cleared a field to encourage the return of songbirds that would migrate to it before it was overgrown. The volunteers then used cut logs and brush to build shelters for local animals.

The effort was part of the requirements to obtain Eagle Scout by Kalis, a member of Troop 667, which is chartered by Chesterbrook United Methodist Church.

well as choreographed pieces.

■ The James Madison High School Wind Symphony and Color Guard will present the annual Tiny Tots concert on Thursday, Nov. 29 at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. and on Friday, Nov. 30 at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The event, designed for children of all ages, will feature music and visits by Rudolph, Frosty and — he is clearing his schedule to be there — a “very special surprise guest.”

Tickets are $5, and are assigned in the order they are received. For tickets, call (703) 319-2110 or see the Web site at www.jmhsband.org. For information, e-mail tinytots@jmhsband.org.
